“ As a child my dad worked a full time job as a mechanic. At the same time coming home about 6 in the evening to build on the home we were going to live in. After a hard week of work , he would cash his paycheck on friday evening and shop at the grocery store for us special treats such as all the chip dip fixins ,sandwich makings , banana splits , floats etc. We called every Friday Bologna night . He did this for years. He was the kind of dad that would buy new bikes to surprise all his kids with to take on a long camping trip. I will always remember the things my dad did to make us feel loved.

“ I remember going to their house when I was younger and him and Donna always made me feel so welcome... I met them through their daughter Jamie and then from then on I got to be familiar with the rest of the family... My thoughts and prayers are with you all...
